Dr. Planner (Brian Uribe, Christian Rodriguez, Jayson Reeves)

Here is a report for our app, Dr. Planner!

In this app, you can take notes, set an alarm, and look at a calendar.

Here is our splash screen, a look at Dr. Planner himself!

Upon opening, you will find the first feature of our app. The alarm. Here, you can set alarm at a specific time. When the alarm is activated, a new screen will pop up alerting you that the alarm is going off. It contains a clock that is based on real time, so it is fully usable. Upon clicking the card, you can edit the time you want to change the alarm for. If you long press an alarm card, it will be deleted.
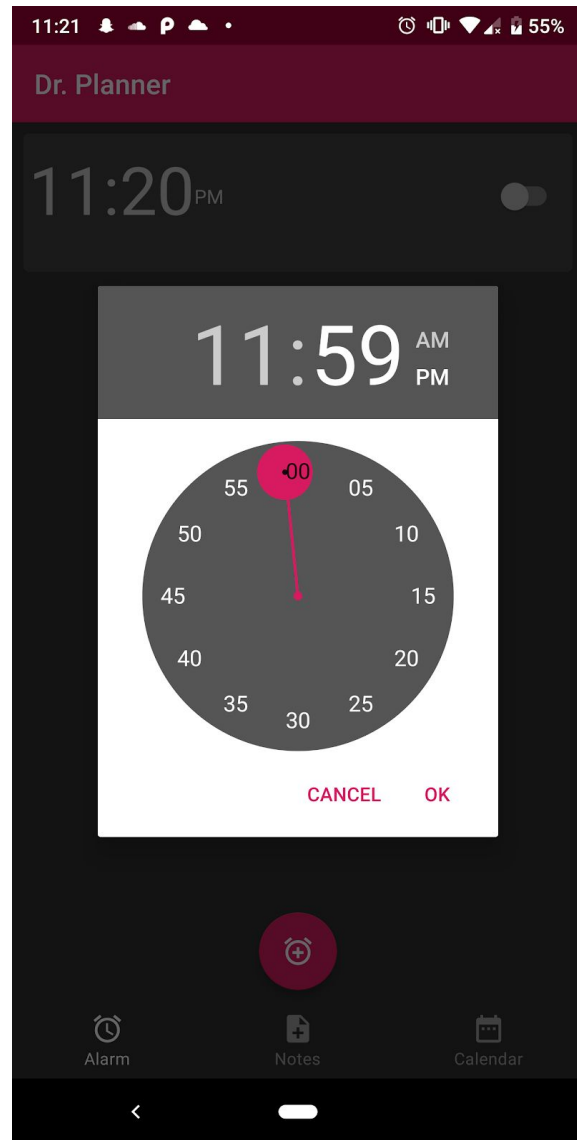

Alarm stop Screen. It allows you to stop the alarm with a simple button click!
One of our best features! The note application. It allows you to quickly create an save notes so you can review it later on!. Each card works similar to the alarm cards. Upon click it would take you to a different screen where you can start typing your messages. That screen also contains a button to quickly save your file. Remember to always save your files! :D

This is the calendar, where you can reflect upon upcoming events. It will snap to the current date when you open the app so you can have a quick glance at your current calendar date. You can also look at past dates and future dates to plan out your life.
